

MUSIC THAT ENCOURAGES

The Brott Music Education Concerts have been shared with more than 260,000 students, since 1999. Our renowned conductor Boris Brott leads the National Academy Orchestra as they perform musical masterpieces for students from JK to grade 8.

CLASSROOM SUPPORT MATERIALS

We provide the information you need to make this a complete and interactive experience for your students. From receiving pre and post-concert lesson plans, information about instruments and music, and biographies of the performers, to participating in musical activities, your students will be engaged before, during and after the performance.

2016 FEATURES TWO ORIGINAL PRODUCTIONS!

Both 'Rock the Orchestra and 'Daphne the Dinosaur' are original scripts written by celebrated children's author Ardyth Brott.

CURRICULUM CONNECTION

The 2016 concerts connect with the new Ontario Language and Social Studies curriculum requirements in many ways. All students learn to identify the instruments and sections of the orchestra.

STUDENTS

I thought the National Academy Orchestra was terrific! My favourite thing about the concert was when we were all singing together along with the orchestra!

Tabary, Grade 3

I will never forget this amazing experience. I really enjoyed being part of something that is teaching truly invaluable lessons to young children—to be accepting of and open to differing groups of people.
